	Organization Did they talk about their project in a logical order?

On Wednesday, and Thursday of next week (first week in November), students will have the opportunity to talk about their science fair project in front of the class. We want to encourage them to prepare a couple of minute informal talk to practice speaking skills. All students need to have the chance to speak so being brief is important. A good goal is to summarize their project rather than reading word for word from their board. We will be assessing their ability to explain their project and show an understanding of the scientific method rather than the work that was completed.
