Ads for Grads

Dear Parents, Friends & Guardians:

Are you looking for a creative way to tell your student, "I love you and I am proud of you"? If the answer is yes, think about placing a "Recognition Ad" (also known as "baby ads") in the yearbook. Yearbook dedication ads are a great way to give your child the special recognition they deserve, for everyone to see, in the 2012 yearbook.*

*Please note that if you submit your ad materials by the first deadline, you can get a considerable discount.

 Sam Baker We know this was not the Senior year you expected. We are so proud of the man you've become in spite of the trials you were given. You missed important events and you never complained. You are a great inspiration to us and everyone around you. We don't know why this happened to you but just remember Jeremiah 29:11 "For I know the plans I have for you declares the Lord. Plans to prosper you and not to harm you, Plans to give you hope and a future" We love you very much! Dad, Mom and Emma	 Stephanie Sagaert Special Talented Exciting Pumpkin Humorous All in one! Love, Mom and Dad
 Kristi & Kevin Durbin Dear Kristi and Kevin, Congratulations! We couldn't be more proud of all that you have accomplished and the amazing people you have become. Make the most of every opportunity! Rely on God for guidance! Love, Grandma and Grandpa	 Allie McLaughlin Allie, You have been on the go since the day you were born and maybe that explains why the last 18 years have flown by. We have had tremendous fun on this journey and you have been a real source of joy for us. We love your creativity and caring spirit as much as your passion for sports. You are capable of accomplishing anything and we look forward to your future and the plans God has for you. We love you, Mom and Dad Allie, I have had a great time watching you win all of your cross-country meets, and I hope that I will be able to see many more when you're in college! I'm going to miss all the boating, skiing, and shredding off the roof times, but I'm sure there will be many more times to come. Whenever you go for college, I wish you the best of luck in school and cross-country! Love, Andrea

It's easy to submit a Recognition Ad.

Step 1:

Select the size you wish to purchase. Please visit www.theyearbookcompany.com and select your school and log on for pricing and size options.

Step 2:

Send us your favorite hard copy or digital photo(s) along with your message typed on a separate sheet of paper by mail. (Mail everything to the address on the order form available on the website. DO NOT DROP IT OFF AT THE SCHOOL.)

Or you can go to www.theyearbookcompany.com and upload your digital photos, message and payment online. But your materials must be submitted all by mail or all online, not a combination of both.

Step 3:

The deadline to submit your ad materials and payment will be November 17, 2011. But there is an early-bird discount for ads submitted by October 25th so don't delay to get the best pricing.

You will receive detailed ordering information by mail in the fall. But to prepare yourself for the earliest deadline, please visit www.theyearbookcompany.com to download and/or print ordering, deadline and pricing information for your school. Make sure to select your school and log on.

And once school starts, please feel free to give The Yearbook Company a call at 951-274-9561 if you have ANY questions about ads. Yes, that's right... you can speak to actual human beings who want to hear about how proud of your child you are!
