

REVIEWERS Needed for the Douglass Science Fair

One of the main objectives of the Douglass Science Fair is to provide each student the opportunity to present their project to adults who can listen, ask questions, and give feedback. We are looking for 30+ reviewers for the 2010 Science Fair on February 11. You do not need to be a scientist to be a reviewer! Reviewers will:

- Meet with six or seven students for ten minutes each;
- Listen to presentations that students have prepared and ask them questions about their projects;
- Give feedback and advice about the projects; and
- Recognize the value in every project and encourage each student to pursue ongoing scientific inquiry.

Reviewers will meet for a short orientation at 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, February 11 in the Douglass gym. Then between 11:50 a.m.-1:20 p.m., we will meet with students.

We also need people to help fold up tables at 7:30 p.m. on February 11. Many hands make this easy.

Would you like to help make the Science Fair a success? Please fill in the bottom section if you are able and willing to help with this year's Science Fair. This form is on the back of the Project Proposal form, so simply fill it in and we will contact you.

Yes, I can help with the Science Fair on Thursday, February 11:

_____I will be a reviewer for this year's Science Fair.

_____I will help recruit other reviewers from the Douglass community and/or others from outside Douglass (local scientists and others).

_____I will help fold up and move tables at 7:30 p.m. immediately after the Science Fair.
